

Clean Air Council Democracy Fellow

Clean Air Council

Philadelphia, PA

Full-time, temporary: 6 months, with hopes to renew and the potential to come on as a permanent employee, circumstances permitting

Salary: $20,000-25,000 plus benefits for 6 months

Desired start date: October 16

Description of Responsibilities:

Clean Air Council seeks a full-time, temporary, hybrid employee to work on statewide climate and clean energy policy in Pennsylvania. Environmental and/or policy experience preferred. The employee will work closely with members of Clean Air Council's legal and organizing teams, as well as the Council's Political Director and Executive Director/Chief Counsel, on a full range of cutting-edge environmental policy and advocacy efforts in Pennsylvania and at the federal level. The employee will focus on statewide advocacy, public education, and youth engagement about fossil fuel and petrochemical issues and alternatives. The employee may collaborate with Clean Air Council's partners, state clean energy coalitions, and a wide network of allies, including: the environmental community; frontline and environmental justice groups; consumer and low-income advocates; labor; the faith community; clean energy businesses; utilities; state and local decision makers; and elected officials. The Council is a collaborative organization and, as such, employees may be called on to assist with tasks that fall outside of the above job description from time to time. The employee will be expected to come into our Philadelphia office approximately once per week, as the work requires.

About Clean Air Council:

Clean Air Council is Philadelphia's oldest and most effective regional environmental advocacy non-profit. Founded in 1967, the Council is dedicated to protecting everyone's right to a healthy environment. Clean Air Council strongly encourages people of color, women, LGBTQ individuals, and those with disabilities to apply.

Compensation:

Salary is $20,000-25,000 plus benefits for 6 months, with hopes to renew and the potential to come on as a permanent employee, circumstances permitting.
