

Cobbs Creek Park Play Art Design Workshop

Clean Air Council is excited to announce that we have been awarded the Play Everywhere Philly Challenge grant from KABOOM and William Penn Foundation! This grant will support child development and literacy skills by creating play and learning spaces at entrances to Cobbs Creek Park. This project will transform four park entrances to include mural art on the paved trail and areas for children and families to learn and play together.

The Council is partnering with Amber Art and Design and Tiny WPA to develop, design, and build art and play spaces in the vision of community members. Throughout the next several months the Council will be gaining inspiration and ideas from residents that will guide the new play space designs.

The project team has created a short survey as a starting place to learn more about what Cobbs Creek Park neighbors would like to see included in the design. The Council is inviting Cobbs Creek Park area neighbors to a workshop which will include an evening of creativity, story sharing and imagination as we collectively envision and design mural art on trails and play areas for children and families. This free family-friendly event will take place on Wednesday, March 6th from 5-7pm at Christy Rec Center, located at 728 S 55th St, Philadelphia, PA 19143.”

RSVP for the workshop at eventbrite.com and complete the survey using this link : <https://forms.gle/QTidk1vUKrF4yYrY7>

More providers, more services.

Trinity Health Mid-Atlantic at Eastwick has added essential specialty care providers to better serve our Southwest Philadelphia neighbors. In addition to primary care and general/ bariatric surgery, our cardiology, endocrinology, gastroenterology, orthopedics, gynecology and urology specialists are now seeing patients in a beautifully renovated suite.

Whether you need to see one specialist or more, our staff will help you schedule a prompt appointment—with the goal of seeing all providers the same day, if possible. This is all a part of our ongoing commitment to offer convenient access to a comprehensive array of health care options under one roof.

To request an appointment, please scan the code or call 1.877.GO MERCY (1.877.466.3729).

2821 Island Avenue
Philadelphia, PA 19153

