COBBS CREEK TRAIL EXTENSION TO GLENMORE AVE COMPLETE

The southern end of Cobbs Creek Trail now extends past Woodland Avenue! After almost a decade of engagement and design a new trail segment stretches from Woodland Ave to Glenmore Ave along Island Ave adding an additional 0.2 miles of trail in Southwest Philly! The new sidepath offers a paved ADA accessible pedestrian and cyclist trail for both recreation and transportation.

This new biking and walking facility improves safety for people travelling along Island Avenue, a High Injury Network road, designated as one of the City of Philadelphia's most dangerous streets. The new trail extension includes updated road safety engineering upgrades to better protect cyclists and pedestrians. Improvements include, separate pedestrian and cyclist areas along Woodland Ave, bollards to stop vehicles driving on to the trail, stop signs and trail markings along Island Ave business driveways that cross the trail, ADA tactile surfaces, and more.

Cobbs Creek Trail will extend an additional 2 miles further south over the next several years and connect to community assets including Cibatti Recreation Center, Penrose Elementary School, and connect to the existing trail at Eastwick Recreation Center.
